We highly recommend Adam Streadt as he is a diligent and highly professional real estate agent. We first met Adam at an open house, about 6 months before we were ready to buy. He told us that we were doing the right things to try to get an idea of the type of housing that usually is available in our price range. We found his laid back attitude refreshing compared to some real estate agents who can be pushy. He was patient with us when we were ready to start seriously searching for our new house. He ended up showing us about 50 properties before finding the right match, which is Adam's biggest concern. He understood our needs, as well as what we wanted in the style of house, features, price and location.

After having a problem with our original mortgage lender, Adam worked tirelessly to find an acceptable lender, which ended up working more to our benefit than we would have had with our original lender.

If there comes a time when we feel that it is time to sell our home, which we not planning on for quite awhile, we would certainly go back to Adam to be our selling agent
